

Message 16

From the abundance of His infinite love, the Spirit of Love would like to send you, beloved people, the following message from the heavenly source.

In doing so,

this messenger asks the Spirit of Love for His special protection and assistance.

The message Communications should be received and understood according to their meaning.

Therefore, before you read the communications, ask the Deity for a deep understanding of them.

The messenger would also like to point out that individual words in the audio version may not always be reproduced accurately. Therefore, it is advisable to read through the written text afterwards if you do not always understand certain expressions.

You kind-hearted people who are serious about maturing spiritually and expanding your expand your consciousness, the spirit of love from the original source of all heavenly being, together with all inhabitants of heaven, would like to send you this message.

It was transmitted to the messenger in this way, and so he wants to pass it on to you in the same way.

"You are now entering a time, and are already in this time, a time of revelations and of many things becoming visible that you could not have imagined in your mind until now. It is the revelation of all that has been hidden until now, which, like a giant octopus, is now rising from the sea of nations and of which you could never have been aware that all things, like the tentacles of an octopus, are now becoming visible and you recognize how everything belongs to one and the same body. You will recognize how all things are connected and have always belonged together since the beginning of your earthly life.

But at the same time, you will become aware of the revelations of the seventh dimensionality with a deep understanding of many spiritual things and further knowledge. Do not slacken in your honest and sincere efforts toward spiritual maturation, gratitude, and confidence in your heavenly home. Seek at all times an intimate, spiritual connection between your soul's body to the beloved deity and feel how your physical body will rejoice in the two-phase primordial cosmic forces. You will recognize how many spiritual things that you have not been able to recognize until now have always belonged together and serve to save spiritual creation. Therefore, proceed with confidence, courage, and spiritual strength whatever may come, for this is what the spirit of God's love calls you to do."

From God's perspective, it is understandable that some messages may seem strange and initially incomprehensible to the reader.

However, please consider that many of the topics in the messages are not yet familiar to many people. They are also new to the one who writes them, and the author must first deal with them, but he does so before he begins writing.

Many thoughts move the messenger days or weeks before, and he then prays intently and sincerely to the deity for the right understanding of this before he begins writing. It may well happen that he needs a long time to understand many images and thoughts in more depth and to recognize the deep connections. It even happens quite often that the writer sits down at the computer and realizes that the right time to write has not yet come. He must then stop and not try to go against his inner feeling. If he were to do so nevertheless, what he wrote would not be in accordance with the spirit of love and would no longer come from the original source of God's love and all heavenly beings. Such a thing should and must never happen. Therefore, the announcer must also pay close attention to when the right time has come to write, when he is in a heightened spiritual and mental state.

Over time, the messenger had to learn to pay close attention to this.

The deity is not the creator of heaven and earth, even though this is often portrayed as such by many faiths. No, that is not the case.

God is the cause of the creation of the material cosmos, that is, the visible universe. On your planet Earth, many things are taking their ominous course. What once began ominously in the primordial creation is now becoming apparent. It was, is, and remains the aspiration of those who cannot accept and do not want to accept a harmonious, peaceful coexistence in the equality of all inhabitants of heaven.

Please understand that there will not and cannot be any insight on the part of such malicious beings from the beyond to change their attitude.

However, the path to their own profound self-knowledge is never closed to them by the deity or all inhabitants of heaven. The realization that gradually developed, to be able to comprehend the primordial pre-creation in all its wondrous, luminous, and harmonious being in the all-encompassing love emanating from it, was the cause of spiritual creation, originating from the primordial central sun, the bearer of all light and all spiritual life. Once this luminous, loving realization had progressed step by step in our spiritual creation parents in their unstoppable spiritual development, the realization of the goodness of all spiritually existing life in the primordial pre-creation could also have developed.

The

Awareness of the "I am" in its most beautiful form should take its true origin here.

An "awareness" of the highest existing form of all spiritual being and thus of deep joy and radiant love should begin here.

This increasing awareness should gradually increase and, at its highest level of knowledge, merge the two light bodies into one, which should become the pinnacle of all possible spiritual being.

The merging of the highest love, affection, and gratitude is the highest form of love.

energy body and in a merging of their two light bodies should become the pinnacle of all possible spiritual being. The merging of the highest love, affection, and gratitude is the highest form of love, affection, and gratitude. It goes far beyond what you can experience on Earth.

It is in its purest form and in its being. Please forgive the herald for not being able to use other words to express what his soul is feeling at this moment. There are never the right words for this, because what is felt must first find its way through the brain and thus the human mind. The herald is very grateful to be able to write in this form of experience and feeling.

Only through the intimate merging of both light bodies, the most intense form of oneness of their loving spirit beings, the highest form of "being one" and loving each other with all the primordial cosmic qualities of goodness emanating from the primordial central sun, did the desire arise in them to create a being that would now be equal to them.

In doing so, they transferred the origin of all goodness into this newly created being of light in the primordial creation, the first created being of light equal to their oneness, "CHRIST." Christ is the first created being of light of goodness with all the spiritual qualities already present in him, as formerly emanating from the original central sun in both spiritual creation parents, that is, our spiritual original parents.

This created a new beginning, the beginning of a new spiritual creation with everything it could bring forth. Christ is the name that was given to the first created being of light among you humans. However, you should know that his name in the heavenly realm is quite different.

Nevertheless, it is not a mistake to continue to refer to him as Christ. This name is of earthly origin and has nothing to do with the being of light and his spiritual origin. Christ is therefore not the Son of God and has nothing to do with a Trinity of God. He is the first created perfect being of light, the parent of all your spiritual creation.

The realization of evil was no accident, the decision to no longer be able to connect intimately with the heavenly principles and laws of life was no accident. It has its true origin in the pre-creation, i.e., the creation before creation.

After the two spirit beings emerged from the loving creation of the primordial central sun, i.e., lovingly created from the energy of the primordial central sun, the actual consciousness of “I am and exist” first had to slowly develop. The duality that was now created with male and female elements, i.e., the responsible acceptance of cosmic energies and their responsible management and loving preservation and transmission. Both spirit and light beings were to gradually develop in the knowledge of perfection. When the first being of light was created, this process was not yet complete, but this did not change the goodness of the primordial parents.

In the heavenly world of harmony, peace, and equality , there is never a standstill in spiritual terms. The desire for spiritual expansion of consciousness knows no end; rather, it is a continuous process of never-ending, all-encompassing knowledge of goodness and creative action, but in absolute harmony and equality among all inhabitants of heaven. The desire to create new worlds of absolute oneness constantly brings forth new things. In this, the deity , with all the memories it has stored up to that point about everything that has happened both from pre-creation and from creation itself, is the loving advisor. It is a loving union of all heavenly inhabitants connected with all heavenly qualities in absolute unity, humility, modesty, and equality. You recognize that such a state, as much as you desire it, can never be possible on your planet.

The interests of the inhabitants of Earth are too different. As a spirit of love, I unfortunately cannot offer you any better prospects, for this is the truth about a process that began in the pre-primordial creation and continues to this day.

Just as the first created being of light, the primordial parents Christ, united absolute goodness within themselves, so too was the spiritual development of the first created being of light from pre-primordial creation. However, his created body of light was also wonderful to behold and filled with the love and gratitude of spiritual creation. However, instead of the recognition of goodness and his never-ending expansion of consciousness, like that of the primordial parents, the evil already developed with the increasing realization of wanting to create something that no longer had anything in common with humility, modesty, and equality. This realization painfully affected the primordial parents, and they recognized the disastrous spiritual development of the created being of light. How fortunate he was to have all spiritual abilities at his disposal. A being of light was created whose light of perfection emanating from his light body would diminish over time to the point of becoming an absolutely dark spirit being who would lose all his heavenly qualities due to his own will. You have always called him LUCIFER.

He is the first created former being of light of your spiritual primordial parents from the pre-primordial creation, and Christ is the first created being of light of your spiritual primordial parents from the pre-creation, that is, the new creation.

Lucifer, the former bearer of light created from the purity of all being by his spiritual creation parents, recognized very well the beauty of the spiritual paradise, but also his inner creative powers to create things according to his ideas and desires. This ability was by no means taken away from him, nor was it ever weakened, as these things had to develop in this way for the sake of free will and justice.

However,

he recognized and felt from his inner being the deep desire for knowledge of Christ's later adversary.

It pained the original parents of creation greatly to realize that a spirit being they had created was filled with light, but had a different understanding than the original parents of creation. They recognized very early on that the heartfelt desire for all-encompassing spiritual knowledge of the pre-original creation was not the intention of Lucifer. The desire for power, arrogance, and pride arose in him. It was not his deepest desire to strive for spiritual unity, modesty, humility, and equality among all future inhabitants of heaven.

The

The new pre-creation began with the creation of a pure being of light with the deep desire for all-encompassing knowledge of equality, humility, and modesty, and a never-ending spiritual creation in the unity of the original creation parents.

A never-ending intimate connection of cosmic origin to all later inhabitants of heaven. The original creation parents now cherished the heartfelt desire that the knowledge they had received from the beginning should spread to all spiritual beings, but with the inclusion of absolute free will.

This behavior had far-reaching consequences right up to your present earthly time. It was originally the rejection of what was created in complete spiritual unity in order to prevent the emergence of a hierarchy from the outset

. With the creation of the deity, a neutral, impersonal being with all the abilities given to him by the absolute unity of all heavenly beings, such as love, tolerance, understanding, helpfulness, patience, gentleness, and thus all imaginable good qualities, the aspirations of the former bearer of light, Lucifer, in the heaven of absolute unity and gratitude, was thwarted.

The existence of the deity, the good that existed alongside Lucifer in the purity of the rainbow-colored light radiating from Christ, was an abomination to Lucifer.

Now worlds had to be created in which he, with all his followers, the fallen beings, would have the say.

All the former beings who, according to their free will, wanted to separate themselves from their heavenly home with its effective principles and laws of life are now described as fallen beings. For Lucifer, it was about taking over absolute power to create worlds that would function according to his wishes and no longer according to the wishes of the inhabitants of heaven.

In the newly created worlds of the material cosmos, there was now no place for God and his gentle nature. A universe with worlds had to be created in which power dominates.

In order to diminish the credibility of an existing gentle God and thus his gentle and good-natured actions and to cause people to question them, an image of God had to be created that would cause many people to doubt his love and goodness. Lucifer and his followers have always found easily influenced people who are not bad in nature, but who allow themselves to be manipulated to such an extent that they cannot accept the truth about the heavenly being as it is, and for thousands of years, through developing religions and faith communities, they have taught people falsehoods

, sometimes even with violence and brutality. They put teachings into the world, which they underpinned with pious sayings in order to create an image of God among God's believers, good-hearted people, that does not correspond to the truth and never did. In this way, they gradually managed to weaken the effective cosmic primal force emanating from the original central sun and render it ineffective for many people

. Instead, they conveyed an image of God with severity, intolerance, and divine wrath emanating from him toward all unbelievers and evildoers. What a tragedy and untruth that continues to this day.

They claim that God's wrath will come upon people to punish and destroy them on the Day of Judgment. But this is not so.

They have always spread lies in the world in order to expose them as lies and thus appear credible.

In the time in which you live today, lies, manipulation, deception, and misdirection have reached their peak.

This is intended to deliberately cause disorientation, which is supposed to degenerate into anarchy and chaos.

But from the very beginning, when the plan for the creation of a material cosmos was forged by the fallen beings, a plan for the salvation of the entire creation was created at the same time.

But from the very beginning, when the plan for the creation of a material cosmos was forged by the fallen beings, a plan for the salvation of the entire creation was created at the same time. Heavenly beings of light have always voluntarily agreed to support humanity with benevolence. They have always taken on different tasks, whether through incarnation or as protective beings, standing by humans to protect and help them. You humans of good faith refer to them as angels.

They have always been and continue to be the keepers, protectors, and guardians of the truth from the heavenly source and of all those who proclaimed it with joy. In earlier times, they appeared in magnificent light due to their cosmic high vibration, which was so high that the molecules of the air began to glow.

Therefore, they appeared in the form that gave them the name angels

. Their appearance was surrounded by a glow of light that told those who saw them not to fear them. This has nothing to do with holiness.

In many religious communities, both the deity and the adversary of Christ, Lucifer, are personified, that is, the deity as the father of Christ and Lucifer in the person of the devil, who is responsible for all evil.

The consequence of this is a misconception that all evil and bad things that come from humans are attributed to one person, the devil, since he is evil personified.

However, this is a great error with far-reaching consequences. This was intended to prevent good-hearted and even honest people from reflecting on their lives and trying to refine their character traits and recognize their own mistakes and try to correct them, since it is the devil from whom everything originates. Please understand that blaming someone else, in this case the devil, is easier and more logical to deal with than questioning one's own person and actions. The personification of Lucifer as the devil with his horns and fearsome appearance was created by himself. Can you now understand that this cannot be.

The deity, as the father of his son Christ, incarnated in his human form Jesus, invalidates the effectiveness of the deity and of Christ. Please believe that this is not meant as a reproach to all the good-faith and good-hearted people who carry such a belief within themselves and seek comfort and security in it.

Please understand it this way:

If someone deliberately puts lies into the world and good-faith and honest people accept them as truth, then they will never become bad people as a result; no, they have been lied to and misled, and it will be very difficult to correct these untruths, especially due to the fact that they are represented by people in high ranks and positions of various religions. Their teachings are sacrosanct, and questioning their words would in turn be immediately punished by the righteous God, so that even the grace of Christ could no longer have any effect here.

However, this is a fallacy with far-reaching consequences both for those who teach it and for those who accept it.

It is not right to place God on a throne where he is to be worshipped day and night.

It is not right to glorify Christ as the only begotten Son of God.

It is not right to glorify Christ as the only begotten Son of God.

deity, a neutral, equal, gentle being created by the inhabitants of heaven, does not want to be worshipped. Nor does Christ want to be glorified among men as the Savior who took upon himself all the sins of men. He did not take upon himself the sins of all mankind. He had to grow into the knowledge of this just like any other honest seeking human being, with increasing expansion of consciousness of what his earth mission was. Christ in the man Jesus was not without fault through an immaculate conception by his mother Mary, a conception that never happened

As the first created being of full light and purity of pre-creation through the creation parents, in the knowledge and inexpressible love for the entire creation, Christ took on this mission in consultation with all the inhabitants of heaven and the deity, since he goodness within him as a seed that would sprout and serve to save all those who would understand his work and as the one who, in his all-encompassing knowledge of heavenly being, could fulfill this mission

Please understand that forgiveness of sins in the name of Jesus cannot take place in this way.

When Jesus spoke of his Father, he did not mean God, but his Father of Creation. For him, it was a spiritual connection to his heavenly home, of which he became more and more aware in the course of his earthly life.

In one of the previous messages, the Spirit of God's Love described in detail the process of Jesus' crucifixion and its effects on humankind and nature. It would be going too far to return to this again here.

Dear people, please do not slacken in your striving for the heavenly home and in walking the straight path there. Please fulfill your daily obligations and be like a lighthouse for yourselves, your families, and your surroundings, for many disoriented ships on the sea of nations.

Do not be misled by disturbing news, no matter how negative it may be, as it burdens you too much and pulls you down too much in your spiritual human vibration.

In the Godhead, not only are all events of previous occurrences from the pre-primordial creation and the primordial creation stored, but also all previous events of the material cosmos and your planet are stored in the Godhead. They do not serve to turn these against people at any given moment; no, they serve to assist good-hearted and honest people with divine advice when asked, just as the inhabitants of heaven also do. You recognize the great difference between worshipping God, honoring him with godly fear, and serving him. No being from the beyond and no human being should have to serve God. The gentle deity is the loving advisor and giver of cosmic bipolar energies to all those who lovingly ask him for them. All experiences of creation are stored in the deity

You dear humans will have rightly asked yourselves the question in the depths of your souls "How can it be that in the wondrous creation, evil, even absolute evil, could develop on your planet?"

Now, this question is absolutely justified, and for many people, the current state of the Earth is difficult to comprehend with all the calamity it brings. The obvious evil stands in absolute contrast to the heavenly world. When Lucifer gradually developed the awareness of what he would be capable of, and this was known in the pre-primordial creation, it would not have been possible to prevent his plans, originating from the loving and powerful primordial central sun, nor in the love of the parents of creation.

There was now no other way than for the evil to develop into what you know today as evil in all its manifestations. Pride and arrogance could never have existed in the heavenly world. Therefore, a separation of creation was inevitable and had to be agreed upon.

The basic idea of having to serve God could never have originated from the gentle deity, as it would contradict his equal nature towards all inhabitants of heaven.

The basic idea of subservience, of serving and being served, of slavery to “masters,” which continues to this day in your time in one form or another, originated in the spiritual world. You can see that these principles of life were never intended by God and cannot be approved by him.

Unfortunately, however, in your world, many people who consider themselves important allow themselves to be served like royalty at the expense of those who have to work hard to earn their money. The spirit of conquest and possession has never changed and has existed for a very long time in your human existence. These things are often considered normal, but they are not and never will be.

They contradict the character traits of humility, modesty and equality towards all people.

However, these traits do not exist in the daily lives of domineering people, and they are not interested in the well-being of others. They represent their own interests and are only interested in increasing their wealth. However, these people should also consider that all these riches are only borrowed for a short time and that when they pass over into the beyond, they will have to leave behind everything they have stubbornly held on to during their lifetime.

In the time that is now coming, you will see how such people stubbornly try to hold on to their wealth with all the means at their disposal.

You will experience uprisings, chaos, and resistance like never before

You will see how the absolute evil of power-hungry people, driven and controlled by malevolent beings from the beyond, will become increasingly obvious, and with it, injustice will also increase.
