

Message 17

Contents of this message: ● The heavenly home: Why our soul (the light body) longs for unity. ● Jesus Christ and the Godhead: A clarification of Jesus' true mission of help and the impersonal, gentle nature of the Godhead. ● Discovering spiritual gifts: How humans can recognize mediumistic talents or healing powers within themselves and use them selflessly for the benefit of all. ● Protection from deception: How humans can recognize true heavenly information and how they can distance themselves from negative influences (fallen beings). Guidance for treating fellow human beings with love and the importance of one's own soul vibration. Dear beloved people, who have the heartfelt spiritual desire to mature and to orient your earthly life toward returning directly to your heavenly home when you one day leave your physical body, receive this message once again from the abundance of the spiritual source. Please remember that all inhabitants of heaven desire nothing more than the return of all those who once left heavenly existence. They are all very eager to reunite everything in everything. In heavenly existence, there is the oneness of all-encompassing knowledge, the knowledge of all existing good and the new creations that arise from it. Please believe that the dear inhabitants of heaven are very eager to restore this spiritual unity and always have been. This has been their endeavor and their most heartfelt desire since the creation of separation. You should know that not every message is a message from the deity. But how is this to be understood? Well, the deity, as a gentle, impersonal, and kind-hearted being, always strives to convey information to people who are sincerely seeking, information that will serve as guidance for them. People who are of good cheer try to change their inner selves and honestly and earnestly transform their nature because they recognize and feel that their soul, that is, their incarnated light body, is unhappy about the experiences they have had and lived through on Earth. In many cases, people try to do everything they can to lead a pleasant and, from a human perspective, normal life. But their inner light body is not satisfied with this life and longs to return to where it once came from after living out its incarnation. You kind-hearted people can safely assume that not every message originates from the beloved deity itself. Many inhabitants of heaven, as well as extraterrestrial heavenly messengers, are involved in conveying important information from the heavenly source. They are agreed upon with the deity, coordinated through God, and then passed on through heralds, provided they draw from the heavenly source. This important process does not speak for a privileged position of God. No, that is truly not the case. All information is stored in the deity. It is the administrator and giver of the two-phase reactive cosmic energies from the original central sun. Thus, it has been given the greatest and most important heavenly task, which, however, does not place it above other heavenly beings. Nevertheless, all things are coordinated and passed on in an orderly manner through the deity. Please bear in mind that neither disorder nor chaos reign in the heavenly realm. This process has nothing in common with the hierarchy as you know it on Earth. Hierarchical structures never exist in the heavenly realm, although the fallen beings aspired to this. It is a free, democratic, and loving coexistence, as many of you on Earth would like to see, but which you do not find because there are too many different interests that never serve the community, but only serve interest groups that seek their own personal well-being first. This was the plan of the fallen beings from the beginning, and they continue to pursue this plan purposefully through the people who are subservient to them, who, through their attitude, are useful tools in the hands of the fallen beings. Your planet Earth is surrounded by a subtle storage layer. This storage layer contains all information about all events from the past to the present. However, humans should not think that this has no consequences for humanity and your planet. Please remember that all your thoughts, words, and actions are still very much present. Now, the Spirit of Love does not want to go into detail here about the consequences. You can observe much of this for yourselves around you. Many of you who are kind-hearted and connected to God will ask yourselves the serious question of how you can be sure that you do not belong to the fallen beings. When you read the messages or listen to them on audio, much of it will seem strange to you and you will not yet be able to classify some things, which is very understandable from God's point of view. Even for this messenger, much of the information is new, and he too must classify it in order to understand it. Some of the phrasing may sound awkward at times. However, this is due to the fact that this messenger does not always find the right words to express what he sees and receives in spirit. Therefore, please try to understand the texts according to their meaning and not according to the words. The Spirit of Love is happy to give you an example: When two people understand each other very well right away, they sometimes lack words or are speechless, and what becomes noticeable between them is the vibration of their souls. This means that the vibration of both souls is on the same frequency of their thoughts and feelings. They move in harmony even without spoken words. When such loving people talk to each other, they sometimes find that they cannot express their feelings in words and are embarrassed because they fear that their counterpart will think they are taciturn. But then sometimes they say a sentence: "We are soul mates." This soul connection does indeed exist and has its origin in the spiritual world, the heavenly realm. If, while reading or listening to the messages, you feel a pleasant, elevated soul vibration and the message topics speak to you deeply and you can connect with them deeply, you can be sure that you are good-natured, honest, seeking souls. Please, this is not meant to be a devaluation of people who are not interested in this topic. No judgment is being made here, but for many people, the right time has not yet come to deeply absorb and understand the messages. This does not make them bad or evil people; they simply lack the knowledge of what is good and what is not good, even though they would never do anything evil to their fellow human beings. This has nothing to do with the fact that there are truly evil people. Unfortunately, there are also people who consciously harm their fellow human beings in many ways and do not even recognize or admit this themselves. Attributing evil deeds to the devil is not right, and is a clever diversionary tactic by evil beings from the beyond who are out to influence people who are willing to do evil deeds. Please understand that just as Christ in Jesus did not have to die on the cross for the forgiveness of sins for all people, which is not possible, it is equally incorrect to think that all evil on earth can be attributed to a being in the person of Lucifer. Can you follow this thought in spirit? Lucifer, with his knowledge of personal prominence and arrogance, interfered with the peaceful coexistence in the heavenly realm. Many of his followers, who could identify with these thoughts, liked this idea of personal prominence of their being in order to distinguish themselves from other heavenly beings. They could not bear the idea of modesty, humility, and equality towards all heavenly beings. They felt both the desire and the possibility to create something different from what they already had, through the peaceful, loving nature of the parents of creation. But that was not enough for them. Their goal is what you unfortunately find on your planet today, so to speak, the result of what originated in the Heavenly Being. Christ, the first created being of light of the original creation, in his purity and knowledge of all gratitude towards his creative parents and the entire spiritual creation that existed up to that point, with all the primordial cosmic energies emanating from the primordial central sun, as well as a heartfelt, intimate connection to the deity in the right knowledge of its impersonal, gentle nature, took on the mission of help, now with his knowledge of all that is good, to enter the material creation of the fallen beings as Jesus, born through his earthly mother Mary, his spiritual creation mother, who incarnated in her physical human being Mary. Christ now physically entered a creation that no longer had anything in common with the heavenly home. He was born through Mary, who is also the creation mother of all spiritual beings, and begotten by his physical father Joseph. His spiritual creation father in heavenly being was initially a spiritual support for him on planet Earth, helping him to find his way and to orient himself spiritually toward heaven. He entered into an intimate, heartfelt, soulful, human connection with his spiritual primal father, which enabled him to slowly grow into his earthly mission of assistance. When Jesus spoke of his Father in Heaven, this meant a direct connection to his original Father in the Heavenly Being. The loving nature of a mother and her profound love for her first-created being of light, Christ, gave her the insight and all the human abilities to protect and love her born son Jesus, and later to understand him as Jesus in his mission. This plan and its implementation were well known to Lucifer and his followers, and he did everything in his power to thwart this plan by seeking to take Jesus' life from the very beginning. He took control of people who were power-hungry in their nature, brutal and unyielding in their innermost being. But he was also clever enough to use the scribes and Pharisees of the time to unsettle Jesus and disorient him spiritually. However, in order to grow into his luminous earthly mission, he needed the advice, stored experience, and loving care of his beloved deity, who would gradually guide him to the right knowledge. Jesus repeatedly sought a heartfelt connection with the deity and always asked him for advice and profound insight. For Jesus, like every other human being, when he incarnated into a physical body, the memory of heavenly life was no longer present. Jesus led an arduous life, appropriate for the times. He lovingly passed on to his fellow human beings the spiritual knowledge and expanded consciousness that came to him, but always in a gentle manner. However, not all who walked with him were able to understand him deeply. Many of them lacked the spiritual insight of spiritual maturation, which was necessary in order to be allowed to return to their heavenly home. Many assumed that he, Jesus, would found and lead an earthly kingdom. Many of his companions could not understand how Jesus could have such an intimate, heartfelt spiritual connection with God. They were not familiar with the deity as such a gentle being from the teachings of the ancient prophets, and it was foreign to them. Some were even disturbed by his statements, but many also recognized his spiritual development into a person who stood in contrast to what was taught by many scribes. In Mary, the earthly mother of Jesus, it became apparent what a mother is capable of giving and sacrificing in order to lovingly enable all fallen beings to return to heaven. She was involved in the far-reaching redemptive mission to lovingly help all fallen beings. Please try to understand in spirit what pain a mother is capable of enduring. She had to recognize the disastrous course Lucifer would take and knew in advance that she would have to sacrifice her beloved son Jesus in order to reveal, through his death on the cross, what it would mean to render the law of sowing and reaping ineffective. In his greatest unimaginable physical suffering, in all innocence of evil and in fulfillment of his pure mission of light and help to all people, he had to endure this injustice. Two thousand years ago, he, Jesus Christ, was the pioneer of all spiritual decisions that people would make in the following two thousand years. In him, the interaction of both the transformation of outgoing negative energies, which every human being releases in thoughts, words, and actions, and nature's reaction to this, became visible, to the benefit of Jesus and to the fear and anxiety of his executioners. Here, the direct influence of heavenly beings in their purity and beauty became visible in Jesus, visible to those who understood him and walked with him until the last earthly hour of his natural life. Now the goodness, gentleness, benevolence, and loving nature of the Godhead, as Jesus was allowed to experience it on earth, became apparent. In his humility, modesty, and impersonality, he had to be the pioneer so that the good of all good and the evil of all evil would become apparent, visible and tangible to all people in their personal later decisions in life. Please understand that glorifying one human being by another does not in any way improve the inner being of the one who glorifies. You realize that glorifying Jesus could not be and never will be the purpose of his earthly work. This process of worship and glorification does not render his former mission of help ineffective, but it does make it more difficult to recognize spiritual maturation and expansion of consciousness, as it contradicts the heavenly laws and principles of life. Good-natured and honest people should not do this to themselves. Both Christ, the spiritual creators, and the helpful heavenly inhabitants, who form a close bond of love and spiritual unity among themselves, are always ready to provide people with information and advice on life. This may sound strange, but please be aware that in heaven there is unity of love, the creative power to constantly create new things. Christ, in his human form as Jesus, had many companions who walked the arduous path with him, and many of them were also executed on the cross like Jesus. Many of them have always been willing to help with the mission of assistance that continues to this day. Some through repeated incarnations, during which they were able to gather various experiences, while others have voluntarily agreed to provide their support and help to humans since their existence on planet Earth. You refer to them as extraterrestrial beings. It is also possible for them to provide humans with important information through the coordination of the beloved deity. All messages are communications from the Heavenly Source. They contain important information and insights that were previously unknown to most people. Now, you should not think that heavenly heralds are specially chosen for this purpose. No, they too have a mission that they determined in heaven before their incarnation. However, these heralds are always in danger of failing for various reasons. They too are exposed to dangers, and evil spirit beings do everything in their power to hinder them in their mission and make their lives very difficult. But you, kind-hearted people, should also receive this message. Be aware of the fact that if you were born into your world to take on a mission, you certainly do not come from the world of fallen beings. Some people with good and honest intentions carry within them an inexplicable desire to help their fellow human beings in whatever way they can. To this end, they learn certain professions in which they are closer to their fellow human beings than in other professions. They feel called to do something that other people may not be able to do. Countless people volunteer in emergency services and give up their free time to help others. Others are committed to protecting nature and animals and experience terrible things in the process, yet they never give up. They are unbroken in their drive and will, and they do not do this for their own benefit, but for the benefit of others. But you should not be surprised if you sense and recognize abilities within yourself that you are not yet aware of, abilities or talents that you cannot explain to yourself. The Spirit of Love speaks here of spiritual gifts. Many people feel a deep need within themselves to do something, but do not know how or why. Then please let these thoughts work within you and ask the Godhead for the necessary insight. If you are a helper from the heavenly home and have taken on a mission, the right time will come to awaken it and work with it. If this is the case, you should not be afraid or think that it is something that could not be. There are professional talents, natural talents, in which many people express themselves through music, painting, or other abilities for themselves and to delight others. However, in everything you do, always be modest, humble from the heart, and never place yourselves above your fellow human beings who do not or do not yet have these abilities. Bring joy to such people with your actions and delight their souls. If you do this with a sincere heart, then you are truly from the heavenly world. You do not seek your own, but do it for others. Such heavenly helpers enjoy themselves most when they can bring joy to other people. Please remember that all these abilities also have their origin in the subtle spiritual world. You then unconsciously live what has always been within you and want to do nothing else. It is and remains your heartfelt soul desire. There are also spiritual abilities in which people do good with their souls. They have a special connection to the spiritual world and are often misunderstood or not understood at all by their fellow human beings. They themselves must first learn to deal with this. This is often not easy. They possess abilities that they often do not understand themselves. Then, in a heartfelt, sincere, and honest spiritual-human connection to the deity, ask for clarity and understanding and how you can use these abilities. This herald writes from his own experience when, many years ago, he recognized his ability to lay hands on sick people. Although he himself, due to his profession, did not want to know anything about it and considered these things to be absolutely worthless. When he then began to work with it and was able to help many people, he recognized its true origin. If you have such abilities, please use them. Please always treat others with respect and ask the deity for special protection so that you do not act arbitrarily. If you do this, do it free of charge. True spirit helpers can be recognized by their nature to help other people with their abilities without expecting anything in return. You have received it for free, so please pass it on for free to other people in need and sick people. As soon as you ask for money, you are moving outside the heavenly principles and laws of life. If you are offered a gift or payment to cover travel expenses, you may gladly and gratefully accept it. There is nothing wrong with that. Otherwise, you might unintentionally hurt the other person. Please understand that neither God nor the inhabitants of heaven want to dictate to you, but if you want to be true helpers, humble and honest, then please take these words to heart. If you have dreams or visions that you do not know where they come from, do not simply dismiss them, but write them down and ask the deity to help you understand them. Then be patient and wait. If you have the gift of being able to see or feel deceased people, do not simply dismiss it. However, if this weighs heavily on you and you cannot cope with it, then also ask for understanding so that you can put what has happened into perspective. This gift should also be treated with respect. It is not intended to make you stand out, but to be of help to others. How and why – these questions will be answered at the right time. You should not use it to trade or tell fortunes in order to earn money; no, that is not the purpose. It would harm your soul and the gift would lose its meaning. Please do not do that. Always ask for special protection so that beings of light are always at your side to help you fulfill your mission. Many of these spiritual gifts were and still are frowned upon in many religious communities and are not readily discussed. This is because they are not understood by many spiritual leaders themselves and thus cause resentment and indignation. However, do not let this deter you. The beloved deity also addresses these lovely words to you. Like-minded people are welcome to meet and exchange ideas. However, please avoid any arguments, which should not exist in a spiritual sense. Have lovely conversations, edify each other, and be grateful for these experiences, but always remain humble, modest, and true to yourselves. There should be no know-it-all attitude; instead, strive to converse lovingly in your spiritual-human vibration at the same frequency. Pay attention to your choice of words and the right tone of voice, which should be loving and gentle. Strengthen each other and avoid conversations about world political issues. They drag you down in your vibration and make you feel bad. Please let everyone finish speaking without interrupting them. If you disagree with a statement, keep it to yourself at first without correcting the other person. The right time for clarity and understanding will come. Rejoice with one another and build each other up. These words are addressed by the deity to all those who are willing to accept them and have nothing else in mind but to mature, to grow, in spiritual knowledge and consciousness. (February 2026) In the love of God and all the inhabitants of heaven
