

Message 14

From the abundance of God's immeasurable love, the Spirit of Love would like to convey this message to all interested readers.

A message can only ever be conveyed in a way that is as understandable and profound as the current level of maturity and consciousness of the respective heavenly messenger.

Since the message topics are also new to the messenger in terms of knowledge, he tries to capture what he has received in writing with the appropriate words and pass it on as best he can.

Please understand that the messenger also has to learn the message topics, and that he is also learning them for the first time.

Since the topics of the messages are also new to the messenger in terms of knowledge, he tries to capture what he has received as best he can in writing with the appropriate words and pass it on.

Please understand that through the painstaking work of Heavenly Messengers and all kind-hearted and sincere people who are involved in spreading them via your worldwide Internet, earthly living conditions cannot be improved. However, they should be a help and spiritual support to all those who are seriously striving to walk their path home to the Heavenly Home without detours and in a straight line.

It will never be possible to bind truth-seeking people to God with commandments and prohibitions . In this sense, there is no spiritual connection to God, as the deity never wanted such a thing. From fanatical and malicious spirit beings controlled from the beyond, many people have always been encouraged to impose the supposed divine will on people under threat of punishment and denial of return to heavenly existence.

But this has never been the divine way of working. It would contradict the benevolence of God's spirit in every respect.

The beloved deity does not want to bind any human soul to itself and never wanted to. Anyone who claims this is greatly mistaken.

Everything visible through material creation has its origin in the spiritual world of creation. Without it, it would never have been possible to create the visible cosmos. Since the human physical body resembles the light body that inhabits it, evolution was necessary.

The characteristics of the heavenly light body (soul) had to be gradually integrated into the developing physical body.

It was, so to speak, a transfer from the light body to a physical body that had to be adapted to earthly living conditions.

The earthly physical laws play a major role in this.

The fallen beings who wanted to create a life outside of heavenly existence needed a correspondingly long time to transfer the subtle data to a human body.

So it was far from enough to create a human body, a fleshly shell, and slip into it in order to live as a human being on your planet Earth. The human body had to enter into a physical-spiritual connection with the light body, whose energy had been transformed downwards. Harmony had to be established.

You know the carrier, the so-called DNA, as genetic information in all living beings. But this does not only serve exclusively to build and maintain the human body; no, it was also used to transfer the former heavenly information. It is thus the spiritual, subtle-energetic data carrier of heavenly life. Since this is present in all cells of the human body, all organs are also equipped with it, so to speak.

However, in order for all organs to perform their work equally well, the different energy centers have been arranged in such a way that the entire organism can be supplied with fine energy. This is transformed cosmic energy. This fine-energy information of the seven-dimensionality had to be transferred to the physical body via these data carriers and stored.

When the fallen beings were promised these necessary cosmic energies to create a visible material universe with its countless galaxies and solar systems, they encountered the difficulty of compatibility.

The fine-energy information of the seven-dimensionality had to be transferred to the physical body via these data carriers and stored.

When the fallen beings were promised these necessary cosmic energies to create a visible material universe with its countless galaxies and solar systems, they encountered the difficulty of compatibility, that is, the connection between their light body and the physical human body.

It was necessary to create the possibility of creating a human body that would meet all requirements and desires of the fallen beings and, despite all this, the original information of heavenly life should never be lost, as this formed the basis for remaining equipped with all the characteristics of heavenly being. Although they no longer wanted to have anything to do with these principles of life, it was nevertheless unavoidably necessary.

However, they encountered insurmountable difficulties in this endeavor. The greatest challenge was to create a human being in which they could live with all the acquired abilities of heavenly life.

What you call the human mind, with its consciousness as BEING, distinguishes humans from all other beings existing on Earth. It is this conscious BEING that gives humans the certainty that they exist consciously and can make conscious decisions and possess free will. This distinguishes them from the animal world, but in no way places them above it in order to treat it badly, as you unfortunately experience today. No, that was and is never the case in Heavenly Being

. It is a harmony, a grateful coexistence of mutual joy and understanding without restrictions. It is a loving, respectful coexistence that you cannot yet imagine. And yet, in their earthly existence, humans have largely lost these abilities to live together lovingly. The cause of this unspeakable tragedy lies in being able and wanting to rise above nature and the animal world. The saying, as you know it, about being able to rule over animals is not correct.

On the contrary, the ability to live together peacefully and lovingly has been lost.

Only with great effort and many worries do kind-hearted and peaceful people today try to get involved in protecting nature and the animal world, and in doing so they face almost insurmountable difficulties.

If it were not for what you call animal welfare and nature conservation, these would be defenseless against the actions of selfish people.

It is a truly tragic state of affairs that cannot be surpassed in cruelty. Here, all these heavenly abilities have been so flattened that only good-natured and kind-hearted people still have the awareness to recognize the true nature of things.

It is a truly tragic situation that cannot be surpassed in cruelty. Here, all these heavenly abilities have been so diminished that only good-natured and kind-hearted people still feel the awareness within themselves to treat nature and the animal world with love and respect.

You may recognize what heavenly abilities humans have lost because they no longer place great value on these things.

Just as they treat nature and the animal world, so too, unfortunately, is mutual respectful coexistence among you humans almost no longer possible. You can see this in the countless armed conflicts. However, these are legitimized, so to speak, because they are a necessary protective measure to defend one's country or to take back something that one believes one has a right to. But please understand that no human being, regardless of their earthly status, has a right to this. When a person's earthly existence ends and their soul separates from their physical body, they return to the beyond without their earthly possessions and must now realize that all their striving and striving for earthly goods has brought them nothing if they did not strive to expand their own consciousness and make the effort to mature spiritually. Once they arrive in the world beyond, they become aware of how much their soul has suffered under this merciless life and what heavenly abilities they have lost.

The tragedy, however, will be that they are not always aware of this and have nothing else in mind than to reincarnate as quickly as possible at the right moment in a physical body in order to be able to satisfy their insatiable human needs again. He exhausts himself practically without limit until his soul is so horribly disfigured that he has completely lost all abilities for kind-hearted and good-natured coexistence and, without regard for the well-being of nature, the animal world, or his fellow human beings, strives only for prestige, power, and wealth. You see what life on your planet can lead to when the inner consciousness of the true I AM is not sought.

Can you already feel and sense deeply what you want to strive for? Do you cherish the deep desire to return there when your soul once leaves the human being in order to experience the bliss of heavenly life again in its immeasurable and all-encompassing way, then please do not let go of the heavenly principles of life and laws of life of all-encompassing love and togetherness with appreciation of all heavenly life in humility, modesty, and equality that you once received.

The spirit of God's love and the inhabitants of Heaven wish to encourage you tirelessly in this endeavor.

The origin and spiritual starting point of all creation is the Primordial Central Sun. It contained and continues to contain all the information that made it possible to create a light body.

As the eternal being, the Original Central Sun contains all the spiritual-energetic information that made it possible to create a light body.

The Original Central Sun unifies within itself all existing heavenly principles of life and laws of life.

The Original Central Sun, the eternal and everlasting being of all being, brought forth in its immeasurable love, something that, once created, would increase within itself the knowledge of the creation surrounding it as a paradisiacal primordial state without coercion, in order to be able to recognize and comprehend the entirety of the existing primordial pre-creation surrounding it in its full measure as the absolute harmony with everything that already existed from the primordial central sun. The creation of our heavenly primordial parents, Mother Primordial and Father Primordial. Their creation, with the far-reaching intention of increasing awareness of the GOOD brought forth from the Primordial Central Sun, was to grow slowly within them. They were to enter into an elevated state of all-encompassing love and, once this elevated state of awareness was achieved, merge within themselves in order to create new light bodies from this fine-energetic fusion of eternal love and devotion, which would be equal to them, and in turn develop the awareness of the GOOD

The Heavenly Primordial Parents existed in a state of perfection, a paradise. However, they first had to slowly comprehend and grasp this within themselves and recognize it more deeply. From the Primordial Central Sun, the GOOD was brought forth in its full measure.

The heavenly primordial parents existed in a state of perfection in paradise. However, they first had to slowly grasp this within themselves and recognize it more deeply.

From the original central sun, a creation surrounding them on all sides was formed for the heavenly primordial parents before their creation. Thus, they were created into this Heavenly Paradise surrounding them

. All these beautiful things already existed, and as the crowning glory of the act of love brought forth from the Primordial Central Sun, the Heavenly Primordial Parents were to form the origin from which all subsequent light bodies would gradually emerge.

After their subtle creation, they contained both female and male soul components in order to lay the foundation for creating new light bodies. This was to manage and distribute the cosmic energies bestowed upon them.

They formed a heavenly dual to develop together spiritually and without rules on the basis of free will.

The nature beings, with all the subtle energetic and spiritual plants and animals emanating from them, with everything they produced, already existed, originating from the giver of all spiritual life, the primordial central sun. The primordial central sun cherished within itself the heartfelt desire to create such things. Within it reigned the absolute perfection of all that is good.

Before this spiritual state of maturity in the knowledge of GOOD was reached, the mutual love of the primordial parents was so great that new beings of light were created through their merging. However, the heightened state of knowledge of the primordial parents had not yet been reached, and thus, with the creation of the beings of light that emerged from them, the knowledge of the good was exposed to the danger of not being able to recognize the existing paradise surrounding them as such. In the newly created beings of light, a different awareness arose. It was the awareness that created the basis for being able to exist without modesty, humility and equality of being. It created the basis among the beings of light created by the primordial parents to increase their awareness of EVIL. They realized that it was also possible to rise above the already existing wonderful creation with its laws of life and life principles in order to create something even greater on their own. However, they had not been given the cosmic primordial energies to do so. Humility, modesty, and equality of nature were gradually lost within them, and in their place grew an inner urge to act independently based on the knowledge they had attained up to that point.

The heavenly primordial parents now had to recognize that the beings of light they had created had attained a different level of knowledge than themselves. This caused them the first pain of the soul, as they had to recognize that the beings of light they had created were striving for a completely different kind of knowledge. It was the knowledge of the difference between good and evil. This set in motion a spiritual direction that continues in the material world to this day.

To counteract this unfortunate spiritual development, beings were created by the Primordial Central Sun to serve as the supreme guardians of the Heavenly Paradise that existed until then, protecting it in all its spiritual beauty.

They now had to counteract this spiritual development through their presence in the Heavenly Paradise. They were the guardians of the pre-primordial creation. In the all-encompassing love of the Primordial Parents, it would not have been possible for them to restrain the beings of light they had created. To make this even more difficult, the primordial parents were praised and worshipped by their spiritual descendants. A disastrous spiritual development had been set in motion. Now the primordial parents recognized the spiritual difference in the knowledge of good and evil. In their inexpressible love, understanding, and tolerance, it was not possible for them to counteract this. Their spiritual descendants had been created by them, and the former cosmic two-phase constructive and sustaining energies were present in the primordial parents.

Their spiritual maturation and development, after they had to recognize good and evil, was now such that they longed to create a being of light that would be like them and capable of counteracting evil in the future.

. In their high spiritual state of consciousness of the I AM, they were now able to make a new beginning in a new creation, the primordial creation. From this highest level of knowledge of all possible knowledge, they created Christ, the first created being of the new spiritual creation. He was the one who would make it possible to place good above evil.

. His knowledge of voluntary spiritual development was so brilliant and luminous that the primordial parents rejoiced and danced with joy.

You good-natured humans may now recognize that all spiritual development and its knowledge of good and evil has its true origin in the former spiritual world and not on your planet Earth in a paradise that never existed and never will exist.

In Christ, the first created light and helper of the primordial creation, a being was now created who would incarnate on Earth in the human being Jesus and contribute to the entire creation.

The origin of the realization of wanting to place oneself above others and establish a hierarchy goes back to the pre-primordial creation. This realization, which the later fallen beings had gained, now took its ominous course, and it came to a division of creation in which, with the agreement of all heavenly beings, the fallen beings were allowed to bring forth a new creation, the creation of the material cosmos, in which different laws would prevail than in the heavenly realm.

The principles of life in the material world would be completely different from those in heaven.

In the heavenly realm, there is a melodious, loving, harmonious coexistence in which each individual being of light contributes its special abilities, not to stand out in particular, but for the joy of all inhabitants of heaven.

After the separation of creation, the power of the stronger prevailed in the material world.

Through Christ, incarnated in the man Jesus, the good developed during his time on earth from what the original creation was able to produce. Parallel to this, however, the evil that also emerged from the original creation developed into absolute evil through the increasing realization that one could place oneself higher than other fellow human beings, nature, and all creatures. Please understand that the Spirit of Love does not wish to go into the details of this disastrous course of events, as this would immediately lower your vibration.

However, that should not happen.

Through the earlier prophets, in whom the awakening of the soul made them aware of their earthly mission the people living at that time were not taught the will of God, but already the heavenly principles of life, albeit with the words available in the vocabulary of that time.

It was not an imposition of divine will, but please understand that people at that time had a very different way of speaking that seems strange and domineering to us today.

However, it was never to be understood as such. A prophet or a heavenly messenger or herald of today can and must never override the free and independent will of human beings.

Now, in the creation of the deity, not only are the spiritual elements of the original central sun present, but also the cosmic energy as a two-phase energy, as well as all the stored energy of both the pre-original creation and the current original creation. God is a free, independent being who is equal to all heavenly beings.

God is not the creator of the visible cosmos, nor did he ever create the Earth to place human beings, an image of himself, in an earthly paradise. The deity could never have done something so merciless to the light beings of heavenly existence.

The fallen beings were granted a predetermined time to live a life outside of heaven according to their wishes and ideas outside of heaven. However, this time is limited and is soon coming to an end.

Self-honest and good-natured people who sincerely strive to gradually recognize their mistakes, refine their character traits, and firmly establish the heavenly principles of life of equality, humility, and modesty firmly established in their souls, are unwaveringly on their way home with the heartfelt and sincere desire to be allowed to return to the seven-dimensionality of all knowledge. The development of the unwholesome in the fallen beings and, at the height of their spiritual maturation, their knowledge that has become evil to take advantage of their fellow human beings and shamelessly exploit them, will spiritually exhaust and thus deplete them. Soon, no more vital cosmic energies will flow to them

They will have to recognize that their lived egoism and arrogance only served them on your planet.

In doing so, they have completely forgotten and ignored the fact that their soul has been damaged and is thus very disfigured. The spiritual cosmic energies that, in their reactive elevated vibration, should have caused their light body to appear in a glow of the most beautiful colors could no longer be effective here. Instead, the former light body has become sluggish and the soul has lost its glow. But you only notice this in the beyond . You are magnetically bound to matter as a result of the low, sluggish vibrations of your atoms, which form the basic element of the light body, so that you cannot escape from the Earth. You are held fast like a magnet because your soul vibrations remain inseparably connected to the inertia of solid matter.

This is the consequence of their merciless earthly life, which they did not want to change. Therefore, the loving Spirit asks you to take your return home seriously. You certainly do not need to give up the comforts of earthly life. In your families, you should experience happy moments of heartfelt peace and harmony and respect each other without wanting to place yourselves above anyone else. Please hold back and do not try to assert your will in a dogmatic manner. In a heartfelt spiritual-human connection with me, the Deity

, ask me to let the right impulses of my divine advice flow to you through your soul core. You will then feel and sense from within what is good and what is bad. In this way, you will be able to avoid arguments

. Even for people connected to God, there are no restrictions or the need to renounce many things through self-mortification or by living behind monastery walls in order to come closer to me.

This, in turn, makes the soul unhappy. But I, the deity, have never demanded such a merciless life from people. Anyone who teaches or claims this is subject to a serious error.

Rather, you should feel and sense within yourselves what is good for your soul and what lowers your soul vibration.

The expansion of consciousness that every human being should strive for is the profound, honest and sincere, ever-continuing pursuit of knowledge of one's own self, of one's origin, one's being and one's spiritual maturation, with the aim of developing an inner desire to change both oneself and, through this, one's environment in a positive way.

This creates the basis for self-honest spiritual maturation and the inner desire to refine one's character traits.

The realization of many former beings of light from the heavenly realm that it was possible to lead a life of arrogance, subservience, and the pursuit of power could not simply be erased for the sake of free will

. It would no longer have been in accordance with the free will of all heavenly beings and the deity

. So they had to be granted their will to create something in which they could live out what the realization of the evil within them brought forth. It was a striving for a life that their heavenly home could not grant them. Due to their desire to lead a life that was no longer compatible with the heavenly laws and principles of life, a separation of creation was inevitable. As a result, after a democratic vote by all heavenly beings and the deity, they were granted the energies to create something for a limited time in order to live according to their needs and their current level of knowledge

Gradually, the realization of the badness of material creation gave rise to evil, which you unfortunately can see in your world today, in whatever form it may manifest itself.

Please understand that this had to happen for the sake of free will and that the deity can never intervene in this in any way whatsoever. The fallen beings knew this, and so it was easy for them to portray the deity, in his immeasurable love, forbearance, eternal mercy, and tolerance, but also in his absolute equality with all inhabitants of heaven, as a god of merciless justice, severity, and ruler over all life on your planet. If unsuspecting but kind-hearted and good-natured people had a deep desire within themselves to come closer to God, they had to obey prohibitions and commandments. With the emergence of world religions and different faiths, it was now possible to powerfully and urgently preach to believers about a God and his work as the creator of the entire universe and all human life. However, these teachings always deny the fact that, in addition to extraterrestrial life on your planet, there is also extraterrestrial life.

But know that life on your planet Earth as you know it could not have evolved without the gentle influence of the heavenly messengers, i.e., extraterrestrial beings. This was only possible through the introduction of important subtle energetic information into human DNA.

With their good nature and in consultation with the deity, they took on the mission of providing significant advice and assistance to the people on your planet.

They did not manipulate human DNA, but refined it so that consciousness could develop and the primordial information from the primordial creation would not be lost. This would never have been possible for the case beings with their malicious intentions in their creation of humans

Humans inevitably exist and have existed in other distant solar systems in remote galaxies.

However, it was often necessary to carry out evacuations because it was no longer possible to live on their respective planets. A planet had to be found with the same living conditions adapted to the physical body. In many cases, this was planet Earth. You can assume that Earth is not and never has been the origin for every human being.

No, your planet is in many ways a planet of immigration with people of different cultures who did not originate on Earth, but were brought to Earth from distant worlds.

That is why there are indigenous peoples who feel a deep inner attraction to the distant stars and the heavenly messengers

However, there was a very big problem with this. It was the fact that these heavenly messengers were worshipped and adored, which they could never accept.

There would always have been a great danger that this would have damaged the light-filled souls of the extraterrestrial heavenly messengers. This could not be allowed to happen, as otherwise their mission to help could have failed. Therefore, they could not and were not allowed to remain on Earth permanently.

However, you may believe that extraterrestrial beings are constantly both near Earth and directly on Earth and have been helping humans for a long time, even if initially invisibly.

You recognize that the desire for worship and homage still exists in many people, which seems quite understandable. However, this is not necessary. There are no beings in the original creation, on Earth, or on other planets who want to be worshipped.

Many people make observations of extraterrestrial flying objects, and in many cases they are not believed or are dismissed as imagining things. But this is a great mistake. It comes from the fact that people in high positions on Earth who are controlled by fallen beings want to prevent this deliberately, as it poses a threat to their evil plans. As a result, many observers of such sightings no longer have the courage to talk about them.

Instead, people are persuaded that if first contact with extraterrestrials were to occur, it would only take place through scientists, mathematics, or high-ranking government officials.

However, this is a very big mistake. To claim this is very sad and once again shows arrogance and pride.

Communication is possible for them in a natural way, but also through telepathy.

They are able to dematerialize and materialize.

Therefore, people should not feel afraid when strange flying objects appear. They are true messengers from heaven and are there to help humans. They are not allowed to intervene directly in earthly events, but in many ways they are able to gently and almost invisibly provide assistance to humans. Please trust in this fact, even if people in high positions like to dismiss it as nonsense.

Please be free in your spirit and trust in the intimate, light-filled life of your soul, which always wants to make you aware that when you see large space gliders in the sky, you have no need to be afraid. I call this out to you, dear humans, in all seriousness.

For many years, many researchers have fearlessly and honestly reported that they have found evidence of the existence of extraterrestrials in many countries around the world. In this they are absolutely right, and their fearless reporting is good. However, understand that instead of just dealing with this topic, it is much more important to change something in your soul . This is by no means a reproach, but knowing that there is extraterrestrial life and thus also unknown air and water objects is of little use if you do not strive for an expanded state of consciousness and spiritual maturity. Please try to establish the heavenly principles and laws of life within yourselves, but without self-coercion, mortification, or fanaticism. Please be assured that it is not the observance of inhuman rules, commandments, and prohibitions established by humans that will bring you into the kingdom of heaven.

Christ incarnated in the human Jesus is not the Son of God. This Trinity of God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit is not to be understood in this way in the only begotten Son of God. Christ is the first-created son of your spiritual primordial parents in the primordial creation. When Jesus spoke of the Father on his journey on Earth, it was the primordial Father he was addressing in full awareness of his origin and his earthly mission, which, however, began in the heavenly being.

Christ, the first created, in his perfect light body, in the purity of the I in the Being of all Being, in the knowledge of Good and in the all-encompassing knowledge of spiritual Creation in its seven-dimensionality, voluntarily took on this mission for the salvation and preparation of all those who wish to return home. Through him, the forgiveness of all negative memories, which you call sins, became visible at his death on the cross.

Out of the inexpressible love of the Prime Mother, it was her decision and heartfelt desire to accompany her first-created son of her love out of the full knowledge of goodness and the perfection of seven-dimensionality. It was the love for Christ and the love for all fallen beings that had never diminished in her and in the Primordial Father. However, there was no other way to stop fallen beings in their negative development than through the path of knowledge of absolute goodness, which was now to spread through Christ in the human being Jesus.

To this end, the way had to be prepared on Earth, and no one other than the Primordial Mother could have taken on this mission.

She prepared the way for Christ on Earth. She also had to incarnate into a human being first.

In this process, too, the Primordial Cosmic Energy had to be transformed downwards before her light body could enter the human being named Mary.

Jesus was conceived in a natural way and not through the mistakenly held belief in an immaculate conception, which never happened and can never happen. During natural conception, both his earthly father and mother transferred their genetic information to the conceived body

Since Mary, as the mother of Jesus, was still very young and the realization of her mission had yet to develop within her, a heavenly messenger appeared to her, an extraterrestrial being who was to strengthen her in her mission and make her aware of what was now to come. The appearance of this heavenly messenger was indeed in the form of an angel, but it was a heavenly messenger in full radiance of light. This was only possible because of the light body of the primordial mother incarnated in the human being Mary, as her soul was not yet burdened with negative memories from previous incarnations and the negative information brought with it from previous earthly lives. She was now able to see the full radiance of this heavenly messenger, to bear it, and to absorb its luminous primordial creation information. Now she was fully aware of her dangerous mission and, through the appearance of the luminous heavenly messenger, received all the natural cosmic primordial energies she needed. She now became aware of which child would be born through natural conception.

She was a good mother to the child Jesus, like many mothers, cherishing and caring for him, knowing that her son

Jesus was in constant danger from the moment he was born. This process did not remain hidden from the fallen beings, and they knew full well that their plan to disfigure their own souls through their way of life so that they could no longer return to heaven was in danger. They tried to prevent this from the very

the moment of Jesus' birth. They knew very well that Jesus, with many faithful companions, would establish an intimate and heartfelt soul connection to the beloved Deity and thus be able to attain such a degree of maturity and expansion of consciousness through increasing knowledge that he would later be able to forgive his evildoers on the cross from the depths of his luminous soul.

It was a terrible pain for his mother to see her son die in agony on the cross.

Only the Prime Mother could fulfill this mission in the fullness of all love.

Please understand that through this process, which was known throughout the entire Prime Creation and among the fallen beings as the plan for the salvation of the entire creation through Christ in the man Jesus, Mary, too, as woman.

Although there is a false veneration and worship of Mary, which should not exist, something has now been set in motion that unfortunately continues to this day. It is hostility towards women in all its forms.

Women are often oppressed by men, considered worthless, they are often underprivileged in your professional world, many women are treated very badly by their partners, even to the point of homicide, which is on the rise. It is absolute horror and the manifestation of all spiritual indignation. Malicious earthbound beings from the beyond will stop at nothing to put the overall image of women in a bad light. It is outrage that began in the primordial creation and continues to this day.

You now recognize the absolute worthlessness of degrading people with a larger proportion of female soul particles who are incarnated as women in human physical bodies.

On the contrary, they deserve high esteem. Therefore, the spirit of love asks you, dear people who can understand this message, to view women as dual beings with completely different eyes and with the spiritual eye.

In order to better understand the current world situation in the background, please remember that EVERYTHING originated in the primordial creation. This will never be exhausted or depleted; no, it will be a never-ending realization of perfection that will always bring forth new creations

In its origin, it remains the absolute GOOD emanating from the primordial central sun. It unites within itself the harmony of all existing being.

In the love of God
